Projects

Sushi | HTML, CSS, Javascript, AOS, Vite, Git, Github | GitHub | Deployment

- This project is a vibrant and interactive sushi-themed website that brings the essence of Japanese cuisine to life. The project demonstrates front-end development skills, including HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript, emphasizing clean design and user experience.
- A responsive design that adapts seamlessly to any device, providing an optimal browsing experience on both desktop and mobile.

Lazarev | HTML, CSS, Javascript, Gsap, Git, Github | GitHub | Deployment

- This project is a modern, minimalist website inspired by the original design of the Lazarev website.
- The website is divided into focused areas for showcasing services, products, or portfolios, with clear emphasis on user engagement.
- Built using HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript, this project reflects your attention to detail and expertise in creating visually cohesive, responsive websites that draw inspiration from sophisticated designs like Lazarev.

Volunteering

Mudita | Tech Team + Content Team

Dec 2022 - Present

As a dedicated member of Mudita, the social responsibility cell of my college, I actively contribute to creating a positive impact in our community. My role spans both the content and tech teams, allowing me to leverage diverse skill sets:

- Content Team: I utilize my writing skills to craft compelling captions, formal letters, and detailed reports for events organized by Mudita.
- Tech Team: I collaborate with team members to design and develop a website for Mudita, focusing on building a platform that showcases our projects and engages a broader audience.
